TOWN SCHOOL DISTRICT REPORT.

Report of the Superintendent for the School Board of Town District,
Stewartstown, for year ending Feb. 15, 1896.

As the wheel of time rolls in its never ceasing revolution it again becomes the duty of the School Board to make their annual report to the Town.

I think that there has been on the whole a good advancement made in most of our schools during the years of 1895-6.

All of the schools have not run quite harmoniously, yet there has been no serious trouble. I believe in a scholar being obedient to the rules and requirements of their teacher. When trouble arises in a school it is usually the parents, not the teachers, who are responsible for it. If a scholar desires to make progress in the way of gaining an education he must first of all exert himself, as his teacher can only assist, but cannot learn his lesson for him. If we wish to see a rapid advancement in our children, we as parents should help them at home, at least enough to know what they are doing in school. And by so doing we shall be better able to judge of the competency of their teacher.

Many of our pupils need, more than anything else, help to realize that it is not the amount studied, but the thoroughness with which they understand each subject, which constitutes scholarship. The teacher who can best inspire this, is the one, other things being equal, whose school is nearest the ideal of success. Most of our teachers are from the homes of our own citizens thus giving them the benefit of our own school money, rather than outsiders. In some instances, where we have not had a sufficient number of competent teachers, we have found it to the advantage of our schools to look further. The best teachers are almost always the cheapest; as one of the first things necessary to a scholar is that he shall be started right. And another point is that he shall be in attendance every day.

The school-house on the River is in a very poor state of repair, and they will certainly need better accommodations before long.

Several of the other houses are in poor state of repair, and there ought to be from twenty-five to fifty dollars raised for the purpose of repairing them. About one hundred dollars has been found necessary to decently equip our schools with books; of course, a considerable part of this expense is unavoidable, as writing books and readers of the smallest grades will not last, but it still remains a mystery why the earth should open and swallow up so many of our books.

DEAD-WATER :— We have had no school at Dead-Water. In the summer there were no pupils there, this winter there was one whose board we hired at Bear Rock. We were indignant to hear of the brutal treatment he received. A detailed account of the eleven schools is as follows :—

PIPER HILL :— This school was under Miss Mattie Bartlett's instruction during the year. Miss Bartlett is an intelligent teacher, and but for some dissatisfaction which arose in the second term, would have been quite successful. But the cloud passed off soon enough to give fair results. This school was lengthened five weeks by contribution of board.

HOLLOW :— Spring term taught by Miss Gertrude Lang was a thorough success. Miss L. is a Normal teacher and a master of her profession. Fall term by Miss Addie J. Flanders. This was one of the largest schools in town and quite difficult, but Miss Flanders succeeded in getting a fair amount of work from her pupils.

SOUTH HILL :— Both terms, taught by Miss Mattie Drew, gave results that were entirely satisfactory. Miss Drew is methodical in her manner of teaching, maintains excellent order and teaches her pupils good manners, as I was present to see.

NORTH HILL :— The work of the spring was under the care of Miss Addie J. Flanders. Good progress was made, fine order maintained and all the scholars became much attached to her. Winter term entrusted to Mrs. Laura (Keazer) Goddard, who was heartily welcomed back to this school by the pupils, as she was an old and favorite teacher. Mrs. Goddard inspires her scholars with enthusiasm, and is mistress of her school.

BEAR ROCK :— This large new school house is admirably fitted to its purpose and is a credit to the Town. The Building Committee will probably report details of expense. The house was much delayed in completion, thus making it necessary to run winter schools entirely, which will, of course cost us considerably more; but I find many large large boys in the school, some of them say that it is their last term of school. So they, at least, have reason to be thankful for the delay. They show their appreciation by the faithful work they have done under their energetic teacher. Realizing our need of an efficient teacher for this large school it was assigned in the spring to Miss Ada M. Jordan. The result has fully justified the wisdom of our selection. The first term is just finished and will be followed by another immediately.

KIDDER :— School was somewhat delayed because of difficulty in securing teacher. A sum of money due this school was unexpended last year, so this year we had twenty-six weeks under the management of Miss Mary E. Flanders. Whose experience and thorough training insure success.

RIVER:— This school of twenty-seven weeks was taught by Miss Edna Young. The extra weeks were secured by giving wood; and the board during all of the school except seven weeks. Miss Young is very thorough in her work and the school impressed me as a profitable one.

DIAMOND POND:— We secured Miss Marcia Hicks for the year in this school. Miss Hicks' methods are somewhat peculiar, but her pupils made rapid advancement in their studies.

BROWN:— Summer term was taught by Mrs. Ella McAllister, who is a faithful worker in the school-room; and gains the good will of all. Fall term was under the instruction of Miss Alice Owen. This term was fairly successful and, but for the ill health of the teacher, would undoubtedly have been entirely so.

FLETCHER;— Few teachers could have made so interesting and profitable a term with only four scholars, as did Miss Alice Owen in the summer. No pupils in town have made such gratifying progress as did these in reading. It is to be regretted that the profession has lost so good a teacher. Winter term was Miss Jessie Fuller's first school. She won a warm place in the affection of her pupils, and we all sorrow over the untimely death of this promising young teacher.

GOODWIN:— Miss Ada Jordan instructed and managed this large school through the spring term. Several pupils from Bear Rock attended this term. The home influence in some of the families in this district is utterly destructive of scholarship and future citizenship; and so, of course, very difficult to get along with. Winter term conducted by Mrs. Ella McAllister was, as far as I can learn perfectly satisfactory. The school was finished unexpectedly, on account of sickness, so I was unable to make a second visit here.

ROLL OF HONOR:— (Neither absent or tardy during the year.)
Branch Blodgett, Walter Noyes, Elroy Heath, Fred Tibbetts, Homer Forbes, Stella Knights, Walter Gould, Lulu Brown and Ada Brown.

Neither absent nor tardy during one term:— Lillie Holden, Della Taed, Lucy Brainard, Fred Holden, Lena Tewksbury, Harry Little, Alice Blodgett, Kenneth Poore, Persis Holden, Florence Noyes, Myrtie Covell, Annie Knapp, Cora Knapp, Elsie Kidder, Vada Owen, Willie Young, Mary Heath, Maud Tibbetts, Ida Knights, Chloe Haines, George Carney, Harry Brown, Eva Hillard, Elmer Gould, Lewis Wood, Minnie Wood, Hazen Lovering, Ella M. Chamberlain and John Chamberlain.
